Well, that's the end of the first half term of the new year. I think I blinked somewhere along the line and missed a bit! It's been a wonderful half term with some amazing learning going on in classes and long lasting friendships being created across school. I have been so proud of all of the children for taking the changes in their stride and making amazing progress in every way.

This week's inter school sports event (which was indoors due to the weather) was a huge success. The children persevered, worked as a team and most of all had lots of fun with the activities planned by Miss Bickerstaffe – some of which required massive amounts of determination!! Photos are on Facebook and Dojo. The winning house, who can come to school in non-uniform on the first Friday back, was Derby so a huge congratulations to them.

I have been notified by Ofsted that our judgment will not be revealed until 1st November. I am itching to tell you and the staff but please bear with us – I did ask if they could bring the date forward!
